

Committee to Be Cold to Gas Tax Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. William Mills of Kansas said today that President Eisenhower's administration will not be cold to a gas tax hike.

Mills, chairman of the tax-writing committee, said in a speech before the House Ways and Means Committee that the administration's position on the gas tax hike is "not cold."

Mills said the entire matter was being studied by the committee. He said the committee would report on the matter in the next few weeks.

Mills said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the economy. He said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the budget.

Mills said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the states. He said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the federal government.

Mills said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the people. He said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the business community.

Mills said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the environment. He said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the future of the nation.

Mills said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the world. He said the committee would also study the effect of the gas tax hike on the peace of the world.

CARDIOGRAM OF THE '59 MARKET—The stock market in 1959 began where steadily rising 1958 left off and ended at a higher level. But along the way it experienced numerous large and small setbacks to present a jagged record of the nation's business heartbeat. The market reached a record high on Aug. 3, then took a nose dive in the face of the nearly four-month-long steel strike.

The end of the year saw it struggling upward again. Business highlights included the raising of prime bank rates from 4 per cent to 4½, then to 5 per cent; and the bank discount rate from 2½ to 3 per cent, then to 3½ and finally 4 per cent. U.S. Treasury's offering of bonds paying 5 per cent interest went over big. The outlook for 1960? A much better year, say the pundits.

News Briefs

NEW YORK (AP)—Six altar boys—all from prosperous families—have dipped into a Sunday church collection to go on a $300 comic book-candy-and-movie tour. Police said Tuesday the youths ranging from 11 to 15, admitted taking the money from an Episcopal church in Queens. They are charged with juvenile delinquency.

NEW YORK (AP)—Two men held on the Paramount Theater on busy Times Square Tuesday night and escaped with $1,500. Police said the men slipped a theater official when he was slow in opening the safe. They stuffed the money into a paper bag and fled on foot.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japan and the United States will sign a new security treaty at the White House on Jan. 19.

administration that spends all of the time repairing damage instead of building solid long term programs."

Humphrey became the first among the Democrats most prominently mentioned as presidential possibilities to get officially into the race.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) returns Saturday from a Jamaica vacation and is expected to confirm then that he also seeks the prize early-bird announcements.

These early-bird announcements seem unlikely to be watched by a trio of other major potential contenders for the nomination.

Alvin E. Stevenson, twice the party's top nominee, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) are expected to continue to play it cozy.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California narrowed the field with an announcement Tuesday he will take no active part toward becoming the serious candidate he had come to be regarded in some quarters.

But Brown held firmly to his resolve to keep other aspirants out of the California primaries. He intends to be his state's favorite son candidate and to head the state's 81-vote delegation to the Democratic national convention.

"I think all of the Democratic hopefuls intend to respect the governor's desire to be a favorite son," Humphrey said. "If one should go in against him, of course, it would become a free-for-all."

Humphrey is understood to have decided that he will not contest Kennedy in the March 8 New Hampshire primary. He has made it clear, however, that he would welcome a battle with the Massachusetts senator in the April 5 Wisconsin primary.

That single primary could be decisive in Humphrey's case. If he can't beat Kennedy in Wisconsin, Humphrey is likely to drop out and hurry back to Minnesota to attend the job of getting himself renominated and re-elected to the Senate.

Woman Goes to Trial for Slaying Child

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A Superior Court jury resumed deliberations today in the case of Mrs. Eula Jones, 43, on a charge of murdering Keith Stone, 3.

The jury retired for the night after deliberating five hours yesterday.

Mrs. Jones, mother of six and expecting another, was accused of fatally beating the boy.

She denied she intended to harm him, saying she punished him for disobedience. She said he could have been injured by running into a garage door after a whipping.

Keith died Nov. 11 after surgery for a blood clot on the brain.

He and a brother, Billy, 4, had been cared for by Mrs. Jones in her suburban El Cajon home for a year. They had been placed there by their mother, Mrs. Letha Stone, 20, San Diego waitress, with approval of the County Welfare Department. It had contributed $130

Arkansan Finds Watch Radioactive

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Clinton D. Smith of Little Rock has learned that his wristwatch is radioactive.

University of Arkansas radiation experts found that strontium 90 in the luminous dial puts out about three times as much radiation as the Atomic Energy Commission says is "permissible" for health and safety.

They stressed, however, that a "very large margin of safety" is used in fixing the standard.

Smith said he would send the Swiss-made watch to the American Watch Co. at New York City, which has offered exchanges for any of a limited type found to have too much strontium.

Smith brought a watch of the suspect type in Geneva in April while on route home from Iraq, where he had been working in an oil refinery.

Smith said a physician had examined him and found nothing wrong.

Attending funeral services for Tracy Mullins in Albion, Ill. on Sunday, Dec. 27 were Garland and Roy Mullins of Hope, Otha Mullins of Bodcaw, Mrs. Bammer Fuller and Mrs. J. D. Fuller of Hope, Mrs. J. D. Allen of Bodcaw, Mrs. Carol Mullins and son of Dallas and Quinton Mullins of Rondo, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Powell had as guests for the holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams and children of Houston and Airman Raymond Powell of Amarillo, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hollis and Randy of Hope.

Mrs. Eunice Eubanks has returned from a holiday visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Aslin and Cindy of Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Brooks returned home after spending the holidays with their daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Glen Willard of Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Russell Jr. have returned to their home in Dallas after spending the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrell and son, and Mrs. Lois Russell. Randy Russell is visiting for two weeks with his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Gib Reaves and family have returned home to Malvern after Christmas in Hope with Mr. and Mrs. John Hatley and the E. P. Young, Jr., family.

Mrs. J. C. Broyles left Tuesday to visit the Joel Broyles family, who live near Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson and family of Wolf, Tex., have returned home after spending Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wilson.

Capt. and Mrs. Clinton Jones and family of Poplar Bluff, Mo., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Jones and Mrs. T. M. Ward in Patmos.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLean and Mrs. Don Roberts and son, all of Weston, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Roberts of McNeil visited the Joe Polk family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shiver arrived home Tuesday from Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Nations and Jay in Kingsport, Tenn.

Bandits Rob Hoxie Mayor of $4,000

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—Police scoured the surrounding area last night for three bandits who waylaid a former mayor of Hoxie and robbed him of about $4,000.

The robbery occurred as O. A. Sullens, 63, was driving along a narrow road to his home yesterday. The men were standing beside their old-model car, which partially blocked the road, and had the hood up as if they were making repairs, Sheriff D. S. Foley said.

Sullens was about to offer them help when one man pulled a gun and ordered him out of his pickup truck. The look his money, tied him hand and foot and left him in the back of the truck before fleeing.

Sullens managed to work the bonds off his feet and walk to a nearby house where the woman occupant untied his hands and called police.

Foley said Sullens was in the habit of carrying large sums of money with him.

U. S. Juries to Take Up Parker Lynching

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Two federal attorneys are here to assist in presenting evidence to a special federal grand jury which convenes in Biloxi Jan. 4 to investigate the Mack Charles Parker lynching case.

Seven persons have been subpoenaed to appear.

Parker, a truck driver, was dragged from the Poplarville jail in the early hours of April 23 by a band of hooded and masked men two days before he was scheduled to go on trial for the rape of a white woman.

His bullet-riddled body was found by federal and state officers a week later floating in the Pearl River 17 miles west of Poplarville.

A Pearl River County grand jury last month adjourned without returning any indictments.

Cuba Reportedly Holding 9 Men

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban authorities are reported holding nine men, including two North Americans, picked up after they landed in three Venezuelan planes at the provincial capital of Camaguey.

The Havana radio station VOZ said the nine were rounded up on suspicion of conspiracy against Fidel Castro's regime. The report said the planes belonged to a Venezuelan airline and four of the men were Venezuelans.

Military police headquarters in Camaguey confirmed that several airmen were being held for questioning but would give no details.

The broadcast said both North Americans and five of the other men gave Miami addresses.

Wild Gas Well Takes Care of Itself

MISSION, Tex. (AP)—A wild gas well that blew out and exploded near here Tuesday bridged itself internally Tuesday night and extinguished the threatening fire.

The well burned for five minutes. One member of its five-man drilling crew apparently was killed and two were injured. Flames shot 200 feet high at the site about 7 1/2 miles west of here.

Missing after the blast was Carl Albrecht, 28, of Alice, Tex. Don Baxley, 21, of Artesia, N.M., and Benny Schoeller, 26, of McCanney, Tex., were injured, Schoeller seriously.

Vice Campaign Urged in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An all-out campaign against vice in Arkansas was urged today.

Dr. William G. Brown, executive director of the Christian Civic Foundation of Arkansas, praised a disclosure that anti-vice measures are being stepped up in Little Rock.

Brown said yesterday's announcement by City Manager Dean Dauley that efforts to stamp out vice in Little Rock will be intensified encouraged "the forces of civic and moral righteousness."

He said "it is hoped the city of Little Rock" campaign will point the way for cities, towns and counties throughout the state and that the people of Arkansas will give the law enforcement officers their fullest co-operation."

"IN TIMES LIKE THESE", A MOTION PICTURE EVALUATION of the current American scene, will be shown Thursday, Dec. 31 at 9 p.m. at the Tabernacle. Telling the story of Dave Locmis, typical contemporary layman, the film lays bare soul-destrorying motives. Gospel Films of Muskegon, Mich. produced the film. In addition the program includes special music and devotionals by the Rev. Hilton Shapley and the Rev. Eddie Mosher.

Hand care should not stop when you're away from home or on a trip. Brand new is a purse-size plastic bottle of hand lotion which can be refilled (above) from dressing-table bottle. The lotion itself is both protective and healing.

DOROTHY DIX
Ask No Questions and She'll Tell No Lies

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My wife has left me because I last but accused her of adultery. Last Thursday a man friend of mine inquired in a roundabout way what hours my wife worked, where, and what hours I worked. I never gave it a thought. On Saturday I got home early. My wife was very slow about unlocking the door. There were various things which all add up. I wish they didn't. My wife swears she has always been true to me. I love her and I would like more than anything to trust her. Should I try to clean out my suspicious mind and beg her to come back or what? She said she would if I wanted her. She almost had a nervous breakdown. What to do? — Lonely

Dear Lonely: If you honestly love your wife, put out the welcome mat and ask no questions. Your magnanimity will turn what could be a shabby incident into something really fine and, in the doing, strengthen your love for one another.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My nephew did not acknowledge receipt of a five-dollar check which I sent him at Christmas. I wrote asking him if he had received it. Again there was no reply. His mother said to me later, "Do not disturb him. There are three generations between you." I said, "I won't disturb him." I generally remember him on his birthday. Would you advise me to send the check as usual? — Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Your nephew's youth is no justification for his rudeness. By sending him a birthday check you will only encourage him in his boorish ways. Settle for a greeting card instead.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I am a high-school student and have met a girl this year who is both beautiful and amiable. We talk a lot while changing classes and I think that she rather likes me, but she goes steady. So told me that if another guy asked her for a date she would refuse. I know she's the right girl for me. How can I convince her that I'm the right boy for her? — In love

Dear In Love: Believe in yourself but make certain you're worth believing in. Prove your superiority to the girl's steady by going him one better in grades, sports and general appearance. It won't come easy but you'll be a better man for the trying and maybe win the girl to boot. If you don't — there are others!

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Teachers Told to Get Into Politics

CHICAGO (AP) — Teachers must get into politics—a field they long avoided—to protect themselves and their profession, a teacher-politician said today.

"In Washington the teachers are the last remaining political suckers," said Forrest Rozzell.

Rozzell, three times a member of the Arkansas General Assembly and currently executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Assn., spoke at the annual meeting of the Illinois Education Assn.

American education has been thrust into the political arena by Russian scientific successes whether or not teachers like it, he said.

And in response, he said, leaders of both political parties are not searching for ways to strengthen the public school system.

"On the contrary, they are looking for over-simplified, step-by-step measures to answer some of the criticism and to mend political fences."

He urged teacher associations, which he said previously have eluded the political arena, to get into politics, to take immediate action to raise salaries and national expenditures for education.

Murder Charge Filed Against Negro Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — David L. Hardy, 30, a Negro, has been charged with first degree murder of a 19-year-old Negro girl whose nearly nude body was found near the Arkansas River Dec. 14.

The girl, Robbie Faye Atkins, 19, had been slashed on the throat. Her body was clad only in stockings. Police said the slaying occurred after she left a card game at an East Side home the night before.

Hardy is free on $3,000 bond.

Federal Loan Group Names President

WASHINGTON (AP)—W. P. Gullery, president of a Little Rock savings and loan association, has been named vice chairman of the board of directors of the Little Rock district federal home loan bank.

Gail Whitcomb of Houston, Tex., was appointed chairman yesterday. He and Gullery will serve one-year terms starting tomorrow.

Ed Gossett, Dallas, Tex., attorney, was appointed public interest director for the Little Rock office's board of directors.

The Little Rock office is for Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Texas.

Four May Die on State Highways

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Capt. Jack Rhea, safety supervisor for the State Police, predicted today that Arkansas traffic fatalities in the New Year holiday weekend can be held to four.

"If everybody will drive carefully, we won't lose but four," Rhea said.

His prediction of five Arkansas traffic deaths in the Christmas holiday period was fulfilled.

The New Year holiday for traffic count purposes runs from 8 a.m. tomorrow to midnight Sunday.

NEW SILVER "STRIKE"

RIVERTON, Wyo. (AP) — A new "silver strike" was reported in Riverton recently.

But it wasn't a new mine — just an accident.

The First National Bank began circulating 10,000 silver dollars minted in Philadelphia in 1895.

Coin collectors snapped them up. Prior to the Riverton "silver rush", collectors were paying up to $12.50 for one of the dollars.

Bank officials said the shipment of old dollars was received from the federal reserve branch bank in Omaha and put into circulation before they realized their value as a collector's item.

Waldo Takes DeQueen, Smackover Licks Stamps

By TEDDY JONES JR.
Hope Star Sports Writer

Waldo beat DeQueen 47 to 34 and Smackover took Stamps 32 to 33 in quarterfinal games of the Hope Invitational Tournament at Jones Field House last night.

El Dorado and Lewisville met tonight at 7 p.m. followed by Ashdown and Prescott at 8:30 to complete the quarterfinal bracket.

The Wildcats drew a bye in the first round of the Hope Tournament while Lewisville advanced by dropping Emmet in the tournament opener 47 to 34.

The Ashdown Panthers advanced at the expense of the Hope Bobcats whom they defeated by a one point, 49-48 margin. Prescott drew an opening round bye. Waldo advanced to the semifinals by keeping the upper hand out their contest. A close first quarter found Waldo leading by a point, 10-9, mainly on the shooting of John Williamson who racked up 9 points in the first quarter. Larry Fincher scored 8 in the second quarter to give the Waldo team a 22-12 advantage at the half.

The second half was on fairly even terms with Waldo maintaining their lead. Williamson with 17 points and Fincher with 16 led the scoring for Waldo while Dwayne Cox netted 11 points to end up high point man for the Leopards.

The Smackover Buckaroos won their semi final berth by soundly taking the Stamps Yellow Jacks into camp. The Bucks played two teams and led throughout the contest from 10 to 30 points. Barker with 15 points was the games high scorer and Smackover's outstanding player. Burnett scored 12 points for the Bucks and runner-up honors, while Raley and Smith were high for Stamps with 8 points each.

In semi final games Thursday night Waldo will meet the winner of the El Dorado-Lewisville game on tonight's schedule, while the Smackover Bucks take on the winner of the Prescott-Ashdown game in Thursday's second game.

Porks Look Like the Old Tech Teams

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Many of the 42,000 spectators expected at the Gator Bowl game Saturday will be surprised to find the Arkansas football team looking more like Georgia Tech than Georgia Tech itself.

Coach Frank Broyles' Arkansas players are lightweights but lightning fast — just like most of Coach Bobby Dodd's Tech teams.

On the other hand, Tech is bigger than usual and will outweight Arkansas in the line about 15 pounds a man.

This won't be anything new to Arkansas. The Razorbacks were outweighted by most of the teams they met this season but it didn't stop them from winning a share of the Southwest Conference title with a 5-1 conference record, nor from a fine 8-2 season.

As the Razorbacks worked out Tuesday, newsmen looked over a group of the players—all of them tall and lean with the builds of swift halfbacks. It turned out they were guards and tackles.

Broyles agreed this team looks a lot like the typical Tech bowl teams of the past. He should know. He quarterbacked three of them and was an assistant coach for six others.

West Virginia, California Meet in a Showdown

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Unbeaten California and West Virginia, just a point apart in a 1-2 finish for the 1959 NCAA championship, stage a rematch in the top game of the college basketball season tonight on a schedule heavy with standout showdowns for tournament titles.

California (8-0), ranked No. 3, behind Cincinnati and West Virginia in The Associated Press poll, extended a two-year streak to 21 but barely made it to the title game in the Los Angeles Classic. The Golden Bears trailed by six with 68 seconds left in regulation play, but came off with 63-61 overtime victory against Southern California Tuesday night.

West Virginia (10-0-5), again whipped along by All-America Jerry West, made it with an 87-73 victory over UTA.

In other championship games tonight, top-ranked Cincinnati (8-0) and All-America Oscar Robertson play Iowa (8-1) in the ECAC Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden, and North Carolina (5-2) meets Wake Forest (6-2) in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N.C.

Darrall Inhoff, whose tip-in with 17 seconds left lifted California to a 71-70 victory over West Virginia for the NCAA crown last March, scored a pair of field goals that gave the Bears the lead for good against Southern Cal.

West, top player of the NCAA tournament, scored 30 points for West Virginia, hitting 11 of 19 from the field.

In title games Tuesday night, Indiana took the Bluegrass crown by beating host Louisville 90-71 with 6-10 Walt Bellamy scoring 24; Oregon State beat Oregon 60-56 in the Far West Tourney at Corvallis, Ore.; Detroit won the Motor City championship with a 92-72 decision over Western Michigan and Miami defeated Xavier (Ohio) 87-69 in the Hurricane Classic at Miami Beach.

While Cincinnati and Iowa, beaten only by Colorado, had a day off in the ECAC, Wake Forest overhauled an eight-point Dayton lead and beat the Flyers 61-50 before North Carolina routed Duke 61-56 in the Dixie.

New P. O. Buildings for Arkansas Cities

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—new post-office buildings will be built at five Arkansas cities, the Postoffice Department has announced.

The new structures will be at Park Hill in North Little Rock, and at Smackover, Bearden, Lincoln and Gentry.

Sires have been optioned for all the buildings and plans are now being designed, the announcement said. Bids will be solicited when the plans are completed.

Porkers Beaten, A&M Plays SMU in the Finals

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Southern Methodist challenges undefeated Texas A&M tonight in the championship finals of the ninth annual Southwest Conference Basketball Tournament.

The two pre-tournament favorites thrilled a crowd of 6,000 last night by impressively erasing early deficits and grabbing semifinal victories over Arkansas and Texas.

SMU ran its season record to 7-2 while defeating Arkansas, 67-56. The Aggies won their seventh straight by turning back the young but dangerous Texas Longhorns, 84-74.

The Aggies enter tonight's 9:30 p.m. finals as the defending champions.

Texas and Arkansas meet at 7:30 p.m. for third place in the three-day pre-season meet.

Afternoon consolation games saw Baylor meeting TEXAS Christian for fifth place (2 P.M.) and Texas Tech meeting Rice for seventh place (4 P.M.).

Baylor moved into the consolation finals by defeating Tech, 73-58. TCU turned back Rice, 63-72.

Carroll Broussard and Wayne Lawrence led A&M against Texas as the Aggies handed the Longhorns their second defeat in eight games.

Broussard scored 29 points and Lawrence 21 as A&M overcame early six-point Texas leads.

Jay Arnette hit 21 points for Texas.

Steve Strange, 6-foot-7 junior from Dallas, was the big difference as SMU pulled away from Arkansas in the final 10 minutes after the lead had changed seven times.

Strange led SMU with 20 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

Our Water Polluted, Says One Expert

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Our drinking water is being polluted by hundreds of new chemical products whose effects on human health are totally unknown, a water expert warned today.

These include plastics, detergents, and insecticides, and cannot be completely removed from water now by standard methods, said H.W. Poston of Chicago.

"We do not have reliable methods for predicting their effect on man. We don't know how to remove viruses from treated water. We don't know the effect on the human system of the constant accumulation of small increments of present-day chemicals."

Poston called for immediate and expanded research to find ways of assuring safe, plentiful water, in a report to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Funds spent on water research now amount to less than one cent annually per person in the country, said Poston, of the U.S. Public Health Service division of water supply and pollution control.

Problems of pollution control and adequate water supply will become more serious as population expands rapidly, said Poston and Arve H. Dahl of Washington, D.C., chief of the USPHS division of water supply and pollution control in Washington, D.C.

Dahl forecast that "super-cities already forming will stretch for unbroken hundreds of miles along all our great watercourses, coasts, and major highways."

Poston said today's wastes contain such things as synthetic plastics, detergents, insecticides, industrial solvents, high energy fuels.

"It is estimated that 10,000 totally new chemicals are put to use each year. Each new product has several processes and each process has several by-products and will one day end up as part of our waste."

Time Again for Forecast of Future

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is time again for our annual fuzzy forecast of the future.

Surprisingly, the old crystal ball is clearer than usual on what lies ahead in the next 12 months. After a decade as muddy as the 1950s, it can't get anything but clearer.

Life in 1960 looks downright pixie. Here are a few insane and zany predictions on what will happen during the coming year:

The Soviet Union will land the first dog on the moon. Three months later, spurred on by angered animal lovers around the world, the United States will land a smaller rocket on the moon containing three cans of dog food—and a can opener that can be operated by paw.

Fidel Castro of Cuba will get a close shave.

Red China, worried over the possibilities of world overpopulation, will export three million tons of birth control literature to India, two million tons to the Soviet Union and one million tons to America.

England will offer to unite Ireland, and the Irish will turn the offer down on the grounds they don't need foreign help.

On the domestic political front, the Republicans, sensing the country is in the mood for a real economy program, will nominate

GRAZ, Austria (AP)—A great snowslide roared down near here today and swept away 12 school children skiers, killing two of them.

Richard M. Nixon for both president and vice president.

The Democrats, after a bitter intraparty fight, will nominate a real dark horse for president—Sen. Edward Muskie of Maine—and campaign under an old GOP slogan: "As Maine goes, so goes the nation."

In a hands across the distaff gesture, the Democrats will name for vice president either Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt or actress Lauren Bacall. Clare Booth Luce will be offered the post secretly but will turn it down.

In the sports world, Manager Case Stengel of the New York Yankees will win the World Series, retire from baseball and buy a bowling alley. He will then grill and find oil under it.

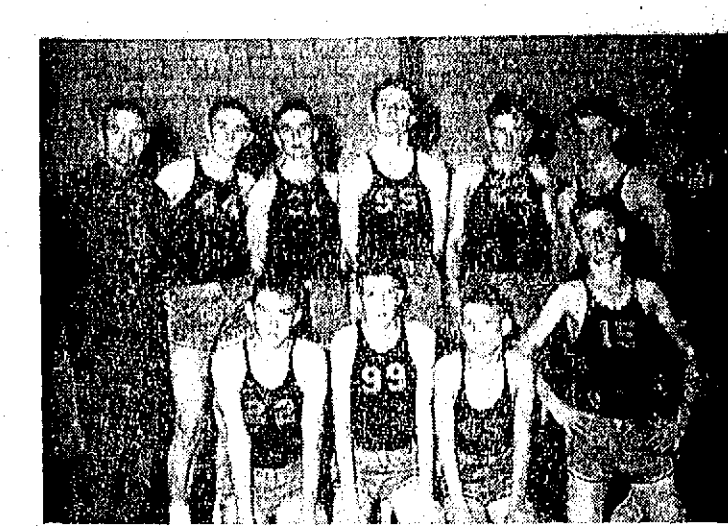

Notre Dame will come up with a promising chess team, made up mostly of sophomores.

Heavyweight titleholder Ingemar Johansson will duck any further fights until he completes his life story, "Memoirs of a Champion, or My Years at the Top."

On the entertainment front, Helen Hayes will both sing and dance in a Broadway musical version of "Queen Victoria." The nation's newspapers will write 1,316,412 editorials suggesting pay television be given a trial, and Congress will do nothing about it.

Brigitte Bardot will turn down a Hollywood bid to star in an American-made film, "The Life of Grandma Moses."

Night cries of the city came distinctly into the room from below, but Carol was not aware of them. Time seemed to have stopped, abandoning her forever in this moment of total disorientation.

She wanted to weep, both for Davey and for the lost world of happiness they had shared only yesterday. But the tears refused to come. Her grief, now was locked tightly inside, a dull, aching pain that consumed her utterly. As approaching footsteps echoed from beyond the door, she barely turned her head. Only when the ring of the doorbell knifed into the darkened room did she look up in alarm.

There was a moment of silence and then she caught her breath and held it as a cat, a hand fell to the knob of the door and turned it. Dashed into action, she darted forward, crossing quickly to the doorway into the entry.

The door swung open, and a heavy, cold air came pouring in. Suddenly before her, silhouetted darkly against the light from the hall.

"Oh, Mrs. Clapp—" Carol's hand found the wall, caught the light switch and turned it on. She stared, unable for a moment to speak. And then it came all in a flash: "It's him!"

In the middle place, Mrs. Lovelace glared down almost guiltily at the newspaper in her hand, and then she looked up at him, pocket of his coat, a tiny, pale child, she said softly, my poor little boy. Carol came forward to him, and he held her out with both arms, his eyes on her face, as though trying to bring the doctor's face more clearly into focus.

For a moment all his energies seemed to be consumed in the brute effort of breathing. "Where are you—um?"

"You're in the hospital, Mr. Lovelace. You were in an accident. Can you hear me clearly now?"

"I—yes," Otis sighed. His hand moved again over his pale cheek. "I'm—thirsty—very thirsty."

"You can have some water," the doctor said, "but now, Mr. Lovelace, there are some matters we need to talk about."

"Mr. Lovelace," Sergeant Mercer said, "you were in an accident last night. You were in a hospital. Can you hear me clearly now?"

Sees Continued Labor Strife During 1960

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's top labor relations troubleshooter today forecast continued strife in his field in 1960.

Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said he expects plenty of labor-management grief in the new year.

"There is no sign of alleviation in the tough attitude that marked labor negotiations during most of 1959," Finnegan told reporters.

"Prophecy is a dangerous business and I certainly hope I'm wrong, but I'm gearing up for a very strenuous bargaining year in 1960."

The mediation service chief said his agency's case load of employer-union funds increased nearly 20 per cent during 1959. He said the cases were usually much tougher to settle, too, so the work load nearly doubled.

Finnegan's gloomy 1960 appraisal came as the Labor Department released 1959 data showing strike idleness worse by far than in any year since 1946.

A total of 68 million man-days of work time was lost due to strikes—nearly triple the 1959 total of 23,960,000 lost man-days.

However, the 16-day steel strike accounted for about three-fifths of all the lost work time in 1959. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said that if the steel strike is excluded the year 1959 was one of low strike frequency.

U. S., Britain in New Crisis With Russia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain are facing a new crisis in their negotiations with the Soviet Union for an enforceable treaty outlawing test explosions of nuclear weapons.

It may reach a head soon after the three-power talks resume Jan. 12 in Geneva. It is not the first time a deadlock has threatened.

The crisis centers around development of an international inspection system strong enough to discourage cheating with sneak explosions.

Unless the Soviet Union modifies its opposition to strengthening the system already proposed, President Eisenhower indicates he may order a resumption of underground test explosions in the United States.

Before such a step would be taken, officials said, the United States would very likely change its strategy in the negotiations at Geneva to seek a limited rather than a comprehensive test ban. A limited ban would apply only to explosions in the air or in the water. They could be policed more easily than underground explosions.

A toughening U.S. policy with respect to the negotiations was disclosed Tuesday when Eisenhower substituted a day-to-day voluntary suspension of nuclear weapons tests for the present fixed-term moratorium which expires Dec. 31.

The United States, he said at Augusta, Ga., will consider itself free to resume nuclear weapon testing but "we shall not resume without announcing our intentions in advance."

In effect Eisenhower put the world and particularly Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on notice that without substantial progress toward agreement at Geneva the U.S. test suspension policy may be revoked some time next year.

The decision drew a mixed reaction in Capitol Hill.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, sharply disapproved, calling it "nuclear brinkmanship" which might backfire and upset chances for agreement with the Soviet Union.

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said nuclear testing would be resumed only if it is necessary for this country's security. He said Eisenhower's stand should be supported.

WATCHING HIS PENNIES
BALTIMORE (AP)—R. Walter Graham is a city comptroller who watches his pennies.

When Graham set a trap for a mouse, the trap did the trick and a cleaning woman removed both trap and mouse from Graham's office the next morning.

The comptroller said he was glad he had bagged his quarry but added:

"More important, that trap cost me five cents and I want it back."

"If he comes through it," the doctor said curtly.
